TEXTO 1 : A TRIP TO ALASKA

A trip to Alaska

Alaska is an extraordinary place. It's the biggest state in the USA – it has North America's highest mountain and the world's most dramatic glaciers. In fact nothing in Alaska is small. Even the people are big!

The population of Alaska is just 610,000. Some people, like the Inuits, live in Arctic villages hundreds of kilometres from the nearest town. Other Alaskans live in small cities like Anchorage and Juneau. In places like Anchorage everybody has a car, but they also have a plane. There aren't any roads outside the cities, so flying is the only way you can travel. Many people have boat planes, and lakes near towns and cities often look like plane car parks.

One of the most famous places in Alaska is the Denali National Park. The park is one of the most beautiful nature reserves in the world, and you can only get there by private plane. Pilots usually land on a riverbank and leave you there. Then they pick you up at the same time, in the same place a few days later!

Alaska is also famous for being cold. The lowest temperature ever recorded was -80° C! It's also dark. There isn't much sunlight during winter, although you can see red, green, and blue 'Northern Lights' in the sky.

Many tourists visit Alaska in the spring and summer. Few tourists go in winter. From November to February, Alaska is so cold that planes often get 'weathered in' and can't fly. Winter holidays in Alaska can be longer than you planned!
