EJERCICIO 1: A NEW JOB

JANE: Three, six double eight, seven, nine.

SARAH: Jane, it's Sarah, Are you still looking for a job?

JANE: Yes, I am, actually.

SARAH: Well, my boss, who is the sales manager, needs a new secretary (1B).

JANE: Oh! Well tell me something about the job.

SARAH: Well Jane, it's a full- time job (2A), five days a week.

JANE: What time do you start in the morning?

SARAH: At nine o' clock (3C), you can catch the eight thirty train with me (4C).

JANE: Ok! And what's the pay like? I got a hundred and eighty pounds a week in my last job (5A).

SARAH: Oh! You can earn more here, it's six pounds an hour, so that's about two hundred and ten pounds a week (6B).

JANE: What do you do for lunch Sarah? Do you take sandwiches?

SARAH: No (7C), we go to a little café near the park (8B).

JANE: And how many weeks holiday do you have?

SARAH: Well, I have four weeks, some people have five but when you start Jane you only have three. (9A)

JANE: Right, I see, mmm! Shall I phone the sales manager?

SARAH: Yes, why not? His name's Mr Fawcett

JANE: What?

SARAH: Fawcett. F-A-W-C-E-T-T (10).

JANE: Well, Thanks very much.

SARAH: Good luck! Bye, Jane.

JANE: Bye!

EJERCICIO 2: MY LIFE IN THE UK

I wanna talk about my life in UK. I went to study in the UK a few years ago. The most exciting experience is that I went to a host family for my Christmas holiday in December (1C). I went there alone...on a train, it took me about one or two hours (2B) to get there, to York and then I stayed there for one week (3B). This was the first time that I spent time with a UK family, which I learnt a lot from them. They treat me like a family member, they took me out to eat, to play and to see all the different interesting culture of their region. On Christmas Day, they even bought me some presents to celebrate the Christmas (4C).

When I went back to Oxford, which was the place that I stayed for that year (5A), I had the chance to teach in a Chinese school every Sunday (6C). The kids are about 14 years old and I taught them Chinese. They were very cute but they all speak (spoke) in English. I spent lots of time to encourage them to speak in Cantonese.

During my study (studies) in the UK, I lived with few other students from different countries (7C). They are very nice and we used to cook on our own just like a big family. Every day we will go to...every day we went to supermarkets to buy food and drinks and desserts. We cooked every day... I was not a good cook (8B), normally I just put everything in the oven. And I've tried to bake a cake before but failed and they all laughed at me. And every time when I bake a cake, they never taste it. We share a flat together - we share kitchen, bathrooms but we do have our own sink and bedroom (9A). The life in the UK is quite relaxing besides study because you can explore more and do different activities at school or even some other extracurricular activities.

I really enjoy the time in the UK (10A); I hope you will also have the chance to explore more in other different countries in the future.
