0.

In my next holiday I'd like to take the car on the ferry all the way to La Palma and I'd like to stay in the south of the island and go to the active volcanoes there. And then after that, I'd like to buy some of the local wines and drink them.

1.

I am writing a novel but I haven't written anything for some time because I have been very busy helping my family. My daughter is studying engineering and is living at home so I can't use the computer when I need to. I hope I will finish my novel next year.

2.

I am a fitness instructor and I teach people how to run and I take people running in groups. I also am a personal trainer and at the moment I am studying in sports therapy. So in the future I hope to help people with any problems they have from running and I hope to help them get better.

3.

I don't really know what I'll do next holiday. I think I'll take it easy and just stay at home. I usually travel a lot and visit lots of different places but this time I think, I think I'd just like to read a book and sit on my balcony.

4.

At the moment I'm helping students with their learning, especially if they're having problems. I'm hoping that I'll be able to work in a university in the future and help them to find out what the best job is for them.

5.

Hello. I'm recently retired so every day is a fun day. I usually meet up with people, go for walks, enjoy the sunshine and I hope that is how it is going to be for a long time.

TAREA 2

Hello Emma, How are you? I'm back. It's been the best holiday ever. I'm so glad I finally went on holiday to Peru. You know how much I love places like Chile, Bolivia or Ecuador. I finally went to Peru and it was excellent. Remember Helen from university? She's such a good fun. Well, she has a friend in Peru, in Lima, you know, the capital city, so we planned to go to Peru together. I wanted to go at Christmas but Helen couldn't take time off work so we decided to go in July. We got quite cheap tickets. We flew from Newcastle to Amsterdam. We had to be at Newcastle airport very early in the morning. My brother doesn't get up that early and the metro doesn't start running early on a Sunday so Helen and I took the bus to the airport at 5:30. My goodness! The earliest in history. Then we took the main flight from Amsterdam to Lima. I slept for most of the flight and Helen, you know what she's like, chatted away with her fellow passenger, poor guy.

The first thing I noticed as soon as I got off the plane in Lima was the fog. The weather in Lima changes very little in summer and the fog is quite common at this time of the year. It was foggy for the three weeks we stayed there. It was OK anyway. We had a lovely time. The first day we visited Helen's friend, Eduardo, a very nice guy. I practised my Spanish with him a bit. He was very open and talkative, as most South Americans, I'm so happy I understood most of what he said. He offered us a small room in his flat, which was very kind of him, but we preferred to stay at a hotel. We thought it was more convenient. So Helen and I shared a small room, quite basic, in a hotel in Lima, good location, right in the city centre, but terrible breakfast. Every single morning we had our breakfast in a cafe in Miraflores, a beautiful district with parks and gardens.

Ah! Lima is such an exciting city. After three nights in Lima we went to visit Machu Pichu, it's just amazing, a bit expensive to get there but it was definitely worth the money. It's a magical place. We got back yesterday. Still a bit tired from the long journey. There aren't direct flights from Lima to Newcastle, so it took us 15 hours from Lima to London. Then we took the train back home, it was three extra hours. Phew! That was exhausting!! But we feel fresh and relaxed after the holiday. I can't wait to see you and tell you all the details. I'll see you at the weekend. Bye!
