MARKCarl Evan's Internet habits*Answer 0

I don't really know. I would say six or seven hours during the week, probably more on weekends or during the holidays. I'm definitely on the phone much longer than my parents would like.

Answer 1

I was a Christmas present. I told my parents that I wanted an iPhone for my 13th birthday but they thought I was too young to have one. So I had to wait until last Christmas to get one.

Answer 2

The first one I had was an Android smartphone, a Samsung Galaxy S. I wanted to have the same phone as my oldest sister. But now I have an iPhone; I've had it for a year and I love it.

Answer 3

If parents see their kids are going to make good use of the phone, it depends on every child, not on how old they are. My sister got her first phone when she was only 12 because she needed it.

Answer 4

I play online games, I share nice photos of my pets, I comment on things with my friends and schoolmates, I download music and I check the school website. I go online for everything really.

Answer 5

Most of it is about my favourite TV series, music groups or about basketball. I'm a big fan of the Chicago Bulls. These days I check every day the websites of the universities I would like to go to.

The worst holiday of my life

By Louise Williams

Dad's very stressed, he has his own company and mum's unemployed right now. She left her job as a shop assistant at Macy's, the busiest shopping centre of the city. There, she earned a lot of money, but she wasn't pleased at all with her customers. My brothers and I were super tired of school. We all needed a holiday in a relaxing place. Shawnee National Forest sounded perfect!

Dad didn't want to get stressed about driving and finding directions in our old car so we went to Shawnee by bus. At the bus station, there were buses to most of the states of the country. We bought the tickets and got on the bus, there were so many passengers that my brothers and I sat at the front and my parents at the back. One hour later, my oldest brother saw a sign on the road that said 'Welcome to Misuri'. Dad told us to take the 67 bus instead of the 76. The 67 didn't go where we wanted. We got off and waited five hours for another bus in the middle of nowhere.

After the longest journey ever, we got to our destination. The receptionist took us to our room, a family cabin, a nice little house made of wood for ten guests. What? I was surprised to find that we were going to sleep with five other people we didn't know. Dad booked our holiday! Another mistake! So there we were, with the Johnsons, a young couple with 3 active and noisy kids from Ohio.

Our plan was to go hiking and we brought our walking boots. The paths to the mountains were crowded, we were OK with that, but to make things worse, it didn't stop raining for the weekend. We spent our holiday in the cabin.
