EJERCICIO 1TOP 6 BEACH CITIES

Adapted from travel.nationalgeographic.com

Read the following texts about 6 BEACH CITIES. For each of the sentences (1-10) choose the correct text (A - F). Each text can be joined to MORE THAN ONE sentence.

DON'T FORGET TO TRANSFER ALL YOUR ANSWERS TO THE ANSWER SHEET.

A. Honolulu, Hawaii

Once an idyllic retreat for 19th-century Hawaiian royalty, Honolulu's Waikiki Beach is now packed with resorts, some of them historic like the 1901 Moana Surfrider Hotel. Its calm waters are ideal for inexperienced surfers, but most beachgoers here are happy enjoying the temperate, turquoise blue Pacific and the views of the Diamond Head crater.

B. Nice, France

Some 35 beaches stretch uninterrupted along Nice's coastline. Don't forget your flip-flops, however, as some of them are covered with small rocks called galets. People who can afford it sunbathe at private beaches, where a day's access costs about 16 euros and often includes a sun lounge; food, towel and parasol are an extra.

C. Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

Rio has an active beach scene throughout its 25 miles of shoreline, from Copacabana—where bronzed Cariocas, wearing skimpy swimwear and Hawaiians, love to relax walking along the promenade in the shadow of Christ the Redeemer—to the more elegant and classier Ipanema, framed by the Rio skyline and the rocky peaks of Dois Irmaos (Two Brothers).

D. Santa Monica, California

With 3.5 miles of broad, sandy beaches, a fresh ocean breeze, and a lively atmosphere, Santa Monica has long been a top attraction for the Hollywood set. In the 1920s, movie magnates and starlets partied at Club Casa Del Mar; today, celebrities avoid the paparazzi at the Shutters on the Beach hotel. Featuring an amusement park, aquarium and restaurants, the pier is a landmark for the beach and the city. Join a volleyball game or just chill out watching the Pacific waves crash on the beach!

E. Vancouver, British Columbia

Canada's most adventurous metropolis is home to ten beaches, from the family-centric Jericho to the clothing-optional Wreck Beach, most of which offer commanding views of the Vancouver skyline and majestic North Shore Mountains. Among them, sporty types prefer Kitsilano, a six-minute drive from downtown, for its free tennis, volleyball and basketball courts, and its super-size heated saltwater pool.

F. Barcelona, Spain

With lots of famous architectural wonders to see, advanced cuisine restaurants, and buzzing nightlife, Barcelona would be a world-class city even without the eight white-sand beaches on its Mediterranean coastline. Accessible by metro, the nearly mile-long Barceloneta Beach—revitalized in the massive waterfront makeover for the 1992 Olympics—is one of the most popular. Hit the Beach Centre to rent a beach umbrella, chairs, or a bicycle.

EmilyM's blog

I've been training in karate for over seven years now and I am a brown belt. I would like to share how karate has helped me develop as a person and provided me with the tools for self-defence.

Firstly, I am going to talk about karate as a self-defence martial art 1 that is what it is. In a world where we are exposed more and more to the dangers of crime, it is important to know a 2 self-defence moves because no one knows if they might end up in a situation where they have to use them. Through karate, I have developed the speed in which to react when someone tries to attack me.

What do I like 3 about my karate training? I enjoy the fact that every lesson I go to, I am guaranteed to learn something new and no karate lesson is ever the same. As well as that, all the instructors are awesome. They know everyone by name, they all want 4 is best for their students and they give up their own time each week to teach, which is really inspiring.

Karate has 5 developed my character and my personality. I'm very shy and I didn't think that I'd be training for as long as I have done and enjoying it as much as I do. I feel really well after a karate lesson. Admittedly, there are weeks where I do feel down about karate, but most people get that occasionally. Karate has definitely improved my self-confidence. I was an assistant instructor 6 two years. I helped teach in a class, which I never thought I'd be able to do, but I did and I am very proud 7 myself for having achieved that and I do hope to do it again in the future.

My main goal in karate is to achieve my black belt, which I will continue to try to reach. My favourite karate-based quote is "a black belt is a white belt who never quit" because it's such a simple yet powerful message which teaches us not to give 8 on our dreams.

9, I'm enjoying my karate journey and I am glad that it's helped to shape the person that I am today. I love karate so much that I would feel really bad 10 I had to stop doing it.
