Complaint

You have just learned that your 12-year-old son is being bullied by some classmates at school. Write a 180-word formal email of complaint to the school head explaining the difficult situation your son is going through as well as its negative consequences, and finally suggest a possible line of action to put things right.

Subject: Terrifying news

Dear X,

I've been in shock since I heard that some thieves broke into your flat while you and your children were away last weekend! How could that happen? Did they take away many things? Did they cause serious damage? How are you and your family feeling? Please, tell me. I'm really concerned about you all!

Yours, Cordell
