Hello lovely ReachOut friends!

I read the other day that a simple 'good morning' ranks among the top 'good deeds*' to brighten another's day. That's according to a recent survey of 2,000 respondents, in which most define a "good deed" as an action that makes someone else feel good (64%).

So, I thought I'd start a thread where we could post about random acts of kindness. It could be something nice you did for someone, or they did for you... or even just a story about when you saw someone do something kind for another person! How did it make you feel? Do you think good acts are the key to happiness? Why (not)?

Ok, now you go!

**deed: a thing that somebody does that is usually very good or very bad.*
