SMART CITIES

A smart city is a framework, predominantly composed of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT), to develop, deploy, and promote sustainable development practices to address growing urbanization challenges. A big part of this ICT framework is essentially an intelligent network of connected objects and machines that transmit data using wireless technology and the cloud.

Citizens engage with smart city ecosystems in a variety of ways using smartphones and mobile devices, as well as connected cars and homes. Pairing devices and data with a city's physical infrastructure can cut costs and improve sustainability. Communities can improve energy distribution, streamline trash collection, decrease traffic congestion, and even improve air quality. Urbanization is a non-ending phenomenon. Today, 54% of people worldwide live in cities, a proportion that's expected to reach 66% by 2050. Environmental, social, and economic sustainability is a must to keep pace with this rapid expansion that is taxing our cities' resources.

TAREA 2: MEDIACIÓN ORAL

Last summer you made a good friend in Australia. He wants to visit you in the Canary Islands, but he hates flying because he's had terrible experiences before with very rude and inconsiderate travellers. Read the following infographic and produce a voice message reformulating the information in a simpler way to give him some advice on how to deal with airplane etiquette offenders.

You can take notes, but you can only use the notes as a guideline.
The test will be recorded.

Preparation time: 5 minutes

Mediation time: 2-3 minutes

HOW TO DEAL WITH AIRPLANE ETIQUETTE OFFENDERS

•THE OBLIVIOUS FOODIE•

No matter how much you love tuna, having to smell it for six hours will make you want to vomit.

NEUTRALIZE THE SMELL BY:

- Pointing your air vent to blow the smell the opposite direction
- Bringing a dryer sheet to freshen the smell of your area
- Wearing minty chapstick or rubbing peppermint oil on your upper lip
- Tip: these strategies also work if you have a particularly odorous neighbor

•THE LOUD MOUTH•

You were planning to catch some z's until your neighbor decided it was the perfect time to share their life story.

SHOW YOUR DISINTEREST BY:

- Wearing headphones, whether or not you're listening to music
- Using subtle body language like turning slightly away from them
- Saying you're tired and closing your eyes
- Excusing yourself to complete pressing work

•THE SCREAMING BABY•

Your brain knows that this little person can't help their crying, but your ears (and temper) feel differently.

TUNE OUT THE NOISE BY:

- Wearing a quality pair of noise canceling headphones
- Prepping your devices with entertainment in case it's not provided on your flight
